SJSC SYMPHONY ORCH. WILL PERFORM TONIGHT

By PHIL ROBERTSON

San Jose State college's symphony orchestra will present its initial performance of the quarter in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 8:15 tonight. There will be no charge for admission.

Max Hagemeyer will be the soloist tonight, and will play Saint-Saens' "Cello Concerto No. One in A Minor." This will be Hagemeyer's first solo appearance with the college orchestra since his return from service.

He is studying cello under Betty Dexter, of the music faculty, and Stanislaus Bem, who is playing with the San Francisco symphony orchestra at the present time.

The 95 member orchestra, composed largely of veterans, will be under the direction of Thomas Eagan. This is the 33rd annual fall quarter symphony concert, and will be Mr. Eagan's 54th appearance with the college symphony.

Mel Sanders, who was to play a Hammond organ in tomorrow night's performance, was forced to leave school Friday due to illness. Mr. Eagan says that a substitution would not be advisable at this time, so no organ will be heard. This would have been the first time that an organ was used in the college symphony.

Program for the evening includes: A Mighty Fortress Is Our God, Bach; Jupiter Symphony—Mozart; Cello Concerto No. 1 in A Minor, Op. 33, Saint-Saens; Allegro Non Troppo, Allegretto Con Moto, Allegro Non Troppo.

MAX HAGEMAYER, Soloist

MU DELT SURVEY SHOWS VETERANS FORCED TO LEAVE

According to Mu Delta Pi's survey of delinquency in subsistence payments, 85 veterans have money enough to last only until the end of this term.

Of the other veterans polled, 15 are without funds now. Of the 126 veterans who have filled out the forms up to 3 p. m. Monday afternoon, only 26 vets who have not received their checks will be able to continue in school next quarter.

Dean Drew, chairman of the survey committee, states that he is grateful for the cooperation being shown by the veterans. Monday's requests indicate that all vets concerned are responding to the survey.

The forms will be compiled Friday. They will then be approved by E. W. Clements, vets' coordinator, and members of the fraternity will personally deliver the completed forms to the regional chief of education and training.

The information will also be sent to Congressman Jack Anderson.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR LEWIS' CONTEMPT APPEAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UP)—

The United States Supreme Court agreed today to hear John L. Lewis' contempt appeal Jan. 14. Lewis and his UMW were fined a total of $3,510,000 last week.

The tribunal, which was "freed from pressure" when Lewis suddenly called off his United Mine Workers' strike Saturday, agreed to the January date at the government's request.

This decision meant that there might be several more weeks delay in hearing arguments between Lewis' UMW, (AFL) and the government. The miners have returned to work and will remain in the pits until at least March 31 when their present contract with the government expires.

The 80th Congress will be in session on Jan. 3 and is expected to give high priority to the labor problems of the country. Several members of Congress have called for "constructive but not punitive action."

The miners have practically all returned to work after a 17 day strike which paralyzed the nation's industrial production capacity. Several thousand other workers in steel and rail industries also returned to work. An estimated 1½ million tons of coal will be produced today.

Although Lewis and his UNW may escape the huge fine, they will not be entirely free from further government action. The unions can be prosecuted under the Smith-Connally act which bans encouragement of strikes in government operated properties.

ASB TO SPONSOR WINTER DANCE

Al Ferguson and his "smooth music" will be featured at Winter term, the annual ASB semi-formal dance Saturday at the Scottish Rite temple, according to Pat O'Brien, Social Affairs committee chairman.

This is only student body sponsored semi-formal dance held every year. One member of each couple must be a student body card holder in order to purchase the bids which go on sale tomorrow in the Library arch, for $1.

"Fellows do not need tuxedos to attend this dance," says Miss O'Brien. "The girls wear formals, but the men wear suits."

Decorations are under the direction of Virginia Mahon, who promises that the Scottish Rite temple will display the Christmas atmosphere with a gayly decorated tree and the soft hues of a winter's mist.

The number of bids are limited. Therefore, students are warned by Margaret Kielsmeyer, bid chairman, to get them tomorrow or Thursday.

CHECK MAIL BOX

Representatives of the YMCA, YWCA, Varsity House, and Co-op houses are requested to check their mail boxes in the coop immediately for an important La Torre notice.

TROUBLE FOR MR. ARCHER

Mr. Archer, Deane Healy, is shown giving Raymond, Joseph Guzzetti, Jr. his instructions on where to go. They furnish comedy a plenty in "Kiss and Tell" tomorrow night.

KISS AND TELL

HOUSE OF LAUGHTER, SET FOR WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Little Theater's stage curtain will rise at 8:15 tomorrow night for the second production of the Speech and Drama department this season. "Kiss and Tell," a farce about the average American family, produced under the direction of John Richard Kerr promises to give the theater-going audience a very enjoyable evening.

The play, which has been described as an "adolescent bed room comedy," is centered around the actions of teen-age members of two families. Corliss Archer, played by Joan Bueschner, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archer. The play revolves around the parents' misunderstanding of the situation when they hear that their offspring has been seen visiting the doctor.

Jim Schaar, who plays the part of Dexter Franklin, leads the life of a man condemned while on the stage. He is blamed for a crime about which he knows nothing, and can learn nothing.

The basis of the trouble comes from Corliss' girl-friend Mildred Pringle, played by Ruth Bryce, who is secretly married to Corliss' brother, Lenny Archer. Clifford Roche plays the part of Lenny, who finds that the Pringles and the Archers are not speaking to each other—and all the children are forbidden to do so—when he comes home on furlough.

Raymond, portrayed by Joseph Guzzetti, Jr., is the little brother of the Archer family, and the go-between of the 'fuedin' families.

Elda Beth Payne and Deane Healey enact the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Archer, while Mr. and Mrs. Pringle are done by Dorothy Lyon and Milton Brietzke. The Kranklin parents are Mimi Dunn and Donald Deal.

Tickets are still on sale in the Speech office, room 159. The play will run tomorrow, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

ENVELOPES WILL APPEAR DEC. 12

Hold on! Grades don't come out until after final week, so the Information office is not putting the envelopes for grades out until December 12. Many students misread the notice in yesterday's paper and have been bothering the secretaries in the Information office. It is good to know that so many are anxious to get their grades, but patience is one of the many virtues a student must acquire.

LAST DAY FOR FROSH CAMP

Today is the last day for students to turn in their applications for Freshman Camp directors, according to Dick Knox, member of the Freshman Camp committee.

Any student who is interested in being chairman of next year's camp should contact the secretary in the SCA office in the Student Union. Applicants for directors should be at least of sophomore standing.

COUNCIL MEETS

The Student Council will meet tonight at 6:30 in the Student Union and discuss, in the main, the question of the school ring. Also on the agenda will be the Health Cottage regulation. The Council will more or less "tie up the loose ends" of the business of the quarter tonight and all students are invited to be present.

CHARRED REMAINS TELL GRIM STORY

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 9 (UP)—The last bodies of the Winecoff hotel fire victims were being claimed by grief-stricken relatives tonight as investigators revealed that the disaster which claimed 120 lives Saturday morning apparently started from a burning mattress.

The parents of four Gainesville, Ga., teen-age girls came here today for a final look at the rooms where their children had stayed while attending a youth congress here. In them they found enough evidence—a suitcase, part of a dress, a ring, a Bible—to convince them the charred bones lying in the city morgue were those of their daughters.

They returned to their North Georgia homes to prepare for a joint memorial service to be held Tuesday night in Gainesville's first Baptist church.

It was speculated that a burning cigaret, either tossed on a carpet nearby or into the mattress itself, ignited the cotton which may have smoldered for some time before bursting into flame.

THE GIFT OF THE MAGI

Many thousands of years ago, so the often told story goes, the three wise men came bearing gifts to a babe in a manger. Thus developed the spirit of Christmas—the idea of giving for the sake of giving.

Friday Eta Epsilon came into the Publication's office bearing gifts—toys which they made during the quarter as a club project—to be placed, with other contributed toys, under the Spartan Daily Christmas tree. These toys are for the bedridden children at the county hospital, and for some youngsters this may be the only Christmas that they will have.

Is it asking too much that we help bring a happy Christmas to some sick boy or girl? An old toy from the attic or a few cents for a new one may mean all of the difference in the world to some hospitalized child.

AROUND CAMPUS

With HURMUSES

With the approach of finals, it's easy to see the big change in things all over here. Take a walk into the coop any time of day, and you can see bulging red eyes of the students as they remorselessly scan the books in front of them, and drink the hot black stuff sitting on the counter.

Yep, it's easy to see that things aren't normal. There's something the matter when Trabing asks for my opinion on the Malthusian Theory, or when D. Titcomb starts the old goldbrick with his prof in Home Ec

The boys and girls really start to hop on the old ball after goofing off for ten weeks . . . but it's too late . . . you can't make up 9 cuts in one class in the last week of school . . . and you can't substitute somebody else's notes for what you're supposed to have learned . . . and this old stuff of making up five exams in the last week won't get you anywhere . . . And where were you when Poytress scowled and told us to "get ready" because you're in for it . . . ?

That O average . . . do you actually think you're going to hang onto it . . . after having spent all your money and time at Marty's???Hmmmmm???

Can you see that "PROBATION" stamped in 14 point type across your registration booklet Ho!

And you, Senior . . . thought you were going to graduate because you HAD a C average . . . didn't you?

Ah, yes, it's so very, very easy to cuss yourself up and down . . . feel sorry for yourself . . . everybody does.

And now, this last week, you sit up nights till you think that you'd sleep for a week if you closed your eyes . . . but the No-Doze is near at hand . . . and the next morning your nerves are so jangled and frayed that your buddy gets in your hair . . . and there's nothing to look forward to but more, and more . . . "Ah . . . that coffee goes down so good . . ." and there's the bell . . . damned near knocks you off the stool . . .

Brother . . . are you in good shape . . .

Bird Lovers Asked To Aid in Survey Of Winged Ones

College faculty members and students are invited by the Audubon Society to take part in their annual Christmas bird count to be held on December 29, announces Ralph A. Smith, professor of zoology and president of the local club.

Each year the National Audubon society sponsors a nationwide bird count to determine the number of species and variations in populations of birds in different regions. They also are on the lookout for unusual and rare birds in each area.

The Santa Clara Valley group will split up into two different parties. One group will make a bird count in the Alum Rock area. The second party will take a census of the birds seen at Alviso and its surrounding region.

After the census has been taken all club members will meet at the home of Mrs. Lester Brubaker and will tabulate their findings and send their total count to the national headquarters.

CSTA Meets To Plan Activities For Coming Year

California Student Teachers association, professional education organization, will meet today in room 55 at 3:30 to make plans for the group's activities next year.

"Possible subjects for today's agenda," declares Miss Ann Tomasello, acting organization president, "are a pot luck dinner, a field trip to the Shriner's Crippled Children hospital, San Francisco, and the annual spring picnic."

Educators To Meet

Representing San Jose State college at the California Council of Teacher Education meeting in Fresno, December 16 and 17 will be Drs. T. W. MacQuarrie, Wm. Sweeney and P. Victor Peterson.

Problems of teacher recruitment, the overcrowded conditions in schools, and other postwar teaching problems will be the topics discussed at the meeting.

Attending the meeting will be representatives from 12 teachers and administration organizations in California.

PROF. WRITES POWERFUL POEM, 'THE GAMBLER'

By WALLY TRABING

After many years of observing men of all nations, financial status, and social types, who give in to the deadly habits of gambling—at Monte Carlo Estoril in Portugal, Reno, and other famous resorts of chance—Dr. William Hermanns, professor of languages at San Jose State, wrote a poem called "The Gambler."

In his eight-line poem, Dr. Hermanns combines the pity and the ultimate disastrous end of the helpless victims. His work places all gamblers in the category of "Drones of society." It is a powerful condensation of years of thought and experience mingling with and observing the rise and fall of gamblers. It is a gem of word choice and thought.

"THE GAMBLER"

The daylight, like a human bat, he shuns;
 To prey upon Roulette or Bacarat;
 His ghostly eyes are red as dying suns;
 His soft pale hands mark the aristocrat.
 His silent lips seem to command the numbers
 That spin around his fate—some red, some black,
 He fuses with his seat as though he slumbers;
 Or has his darker self weighed down his back?

Students May Apply for Civil Service Jobs

The United States Civil Service announces that applicants are now being accepted for the positions of Scientific Aid and Biological Aid with the Commission.

Applications will be considered on practical experience or educational merit, depending on the total of each. A contestant in the examinations, if he is a student, will receive a salary corresponding to one who applies solely on the background of practical experience.

Duties entailed with the former position include the performing of subprofessional and technical scientific work in one of the physical sciences such as chemistry, physics metallurgy, mathematics, etc. An application for Biological Aid have a working knowledge of entomology, botany, horticulture, zoology, etc.

Grade and salary run as follows: an employee with experience totalling three months begins at an annual wage of $1822, ranging up to one who starts with a total of 5 years experience at a salary of $3397 per year.

Employment will be with the various governmental agencies in California, Nevada, and Arizona.

Applications must be filed not later than December 26 with the Director, 12th U. S. Civil Service Region, Room 129, Appraisers Bldg., 630 Sansome St., San Francisco, 11.

San Jose will be one of the examination centers. Date will be announced in a circular to all applicants.

Library Displays Books on Latest Culinary Art

Talleyrand, the great French diplomat once said, "Two things men must be able to do. Give good dinners and remain on fair terms with women."

This is the preface to the book "The Best Men Are Cooks" which is now part of the display in the reference room of the library.

Most authors seem to agree on the fact that the best cooks are men, but there is some dispute as to the best men being cooks.

Also included in the exhibit are books on recipes, candy making secrets, and a treatise on the "Importance of Dinner."

You young ladies that are in the market for husbands might do well to remember that one of the most important things a man considers is the fare his stomach will be subjected to after he has promised to love, honor, and obey.

Former Spartan To Speak To Entomology Club

William J. Tilden will give an illustrated lecture tomorrow evening at 7:45 on "Insects of the Order of Lepidoptera." This order includes butterflies, moths and skippers. Mr. Tilden's talk is being sponsored by the Entomology club and will be held in room 210 of the Science building.

Mr. Tilden is a former Spartan and is now a graduate student at Stanford University. The speaker is well qualified to speak on this group of highly interesting and economically important insects. He is an authority on butterflies.

The speaker has studied and collected Lepidoptera throughout Western and Southwestern United States. He spent the war years in the South Pacific.

All students interested are invited to attend the lecture and view the specimens from the rich and varied collection of the college. The collection is located just outside of Dr. Carl Duncan's entomology laboratory. Mr. Tilden has prepared and collected many of these specimens.

LA TORRE PICTURE TIME EXTENDED

"Because almost half of the seniors have not yet had their La Torre graduation pictures taken, we have extended the deadline to January 10," announces Editor Phyllis Clayton.

"Students may make their appointments in the Publications office during the rest of this quarter, and on December 30 and 31, registration days. Seniors who have not had their pictures taken by the new deadline will have to be omitted from the La Torre," Miss Clayton says.

Lost And Found

LOST: Blue Strook coat taken by mistake from the Gamma Phi dance November 22 is needed badly these frosty mornings. Please return to CWC, or room 2. No questions asked.

TRIP TO RAISIN BOWL WILL COST ABOUT $18

For the benefit of Spartans who plan to go to Fresno to witness the Raisin Bowl extravaganza New Year's day here is a list of expenses you may run into.

It is approximately 170 miles from here to the city where they box the raisins. That means a round trip by car would consume about 23-25 gallons of gas and about 1½ quarts of oil. Estimated cost per car, $4.35.

TRAINS AND BUSES

For people who don't have their own vehicles, the Greyhound Bus company's price for a round trip is $5.52. Also the Spartan boosters are trying to hire a train. Contact the SP depot for further information.

The game takes place at 2 p.m. This means that you could eat breakfast at home, but would probably have to stop for lunch on the way, or else bring one with you.

After the game, you would need something to revive your energies, which would range in cost from 50 cents to $5, depending on how much you eat and where you like to eat at.

The price of the ticket for admission to the contest is $3.60. This is one expense that no member of the student body (those with press passes excepted) can avoid.

COLD WEATHER

There is a reasonable certainty in the minds of merchants in the local area that it might be cold in Fresno on New Year's day, so take out another five dollar bill, and chalk it up to expense.

Two From SJSC Will Attend Student Meet

Bill MacFarland and Sal Millan will represent San Jose State college at the International Union of Students, to be held at the University of Chicago, December 28, 29, and 30.

According to MacFarland and Millan, the purpose of the meeting will be to:

Hear a report on the international student scene, with special reference to the World Student Congress at Prague; discuss the need for and character of a national student organization in the United States; establish, if so decided by the conference, a national preparatory committee to make specific plans for such an organization.

All organizations that should participate in the conference will be listed on the bulletin board near Morris Dailey auditorium.

The delegates ask that these organizations submit two copies of their constitution and any subject they wish discussed, not later than 4:30 Friday, to the Publications office.

SCA DINNER

All members of the SCA publicity committee are reminded to sign up for the Chinese dinner to be held Friday, December 13 at the Oriental Cafe.

Members attending may bring a guest. Sign up in the SCA right away to be sure of your reservation.

AWA USING SIGNS TO HELP CLEANUP

Posters, banners, signs and cards decorate the campus this week as the Associated Women's Activities starts its drive to clean up the college grounds.

"I think they're doing a mighty fine job," says Marty Taylor, ASB president. "There is already a great improvement in the appearance of the Student Union. The atmosphere is a great deal better. I certainly appreciate the cooperation of the students and the work of the AWA members."

As yet no one has been given notice to appear before the court. According to Claire Cummins, Student Union hostess, "Most of the violations come through ignorance of the rules. Once we tell the students that what they are doing is wrong, they stop and don't seem to be a bit resentful."

RICHARD ALDRICH TO REPLACE STEPHEN KAYSER IN ART DEPT.

Art Department Head Marques Reitzel announces that Dr. Richard Aldrich will join the faculty next quarter to replace Dr. Stephen Kayser, recently granted a leave of absence.

Dr. Aldrich graduated from Illinois university where he received his AB; he acquired his AM at the University of Arizona in Tuscon, and his PhD at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Reitzel states that advanced courses at Fogg museum and scholarship studies at Harvard and Pennsylvania universities are listed in the future faculty member's scholastic biography.

While at the University of Arizona, Dr. Aldrich studied archeology and excavations.

He has been on the teaching staff of the universities of Cornell and Illinois, and Wesleyan college in Macon, Georgia, and he is a member of the American Institute of Archeology.

On a field trip in Mexico, Dr. Aldrich studied pre-Columbian and Baroque monuments, according to Dr. Reitzel.

WOMEN P. E. MAJORS HOLD ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY TONIGHT AT LUCCA'S

Tonight is Christmas party time for the Women's P. E. department. Majors will meet at 6:30 at Lucca's in Santa Clara for a roast beef dinner. Minors will have their annual potluck at the home of Mrs. Sarah Wilson, adviser.

Anna Aulgur and Mary Jonas are in charge of the majors' dinner, and announce that the event will cost $1.50 per person. Entertainment and singing Christmas carols will follow the eating session.

SJSC TRYING TO GET A HALL

San Jose State college is negotiating for a large war surplus building to be used primarily as a dance hall, according to E. S. Thompson, comptroller.

The college hopes to get a building large enough to contain smaller rooms for club meetings and, perhaps, a banquet hall for club dinners and initiations. As a dance hall it would take the place of the civic auditorium, and this would save a great deal of time as well as money.

Mr. Thompson also states that the new dance hall could be used for the Kappa Kappa Gamma every year. This would eliminate the annual re-finishing the floor of the Men's gym, the place where the Kappa is usually held.

A suggestion was also made that perhaps future registrations could be handled better in the potential dance hall than in the Men's gym. Mr. Thompson says that he has no idea when or if the school will receive this building.

Minors are asked to sign up on the bulletin board in the Women's gym today, according to a department announcement. Mrs. Wilson expresses the hope that everyone will come, and bring a 25 cent gift to exchange.

Hazel Ench is president of the P. E. majors. Other officers are Claire Canevari, vice-president; Mary Simin, treasurer; Virginia Heseman, secretary. Dr. Irene Palmer, department head, is adviser.

Minors' officers are Valma Curti, president; Roberta Goodall, vice-president; Yvonne Harding, secretary-treasurer.

When San Jose State college first opened July 19, 1862, one man and five women formed the associated student body.

THE HOT CORNER

By DICK FRY

The Hardin-Simmons Cowboys—Rude Mobley, 155 pounds of dynamite and all—put their money on the wrong football team this season when they decided to pick Denver University for their Alamo Bowl opponent rather than meet the Spartans in Fresno.

Mobley and Co. did get the Rocky Mountain conference co-champs, but they also got a team that has been beaten four times and tied once in ten starts. What makes it even more bitter is the fact that one of these shellackings was handed to Denver by the Utags who wound up with a seasonal record of 7 wins, one loss, and one tie. As has been pointed out before, but will bear repeating, at least San Jose and Utah State can bill their battle as a titanic clash of conference champs which seems to be an oddity in Bowl games this year.

The Hawaiian All-Stars took a lesson from George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins in the National Professional Football League, and they learned it well. Marshall puts on a little show along with his football, with the result that the Redskins have outdrawn most of the teams in the Pro-leagues for a number of years running. The All-Stars didn't have much in the way of a cage team last Friday night, but they packed 2,500 people into the Men's gym with the addition of some dancing girls and a couple guitarists. People know what they want to see, and they will pay to see it. Roy Tamm, Tony Braginetz, and Gordie Garetson, of the Sacramento Senators, displayed the best basketball seen in San Jose this year, but they neglected to bring along the "Capitol Caperettes." Result, no crowd.

MATMEN TREK TO CAL TO GRAPPLE WITH THE BEARS

Twenty-four wrestlers will leave for Berkeley at 5:30 tomorrow evening where they will meet the California Bears in the Spartans' second informal meet of the season, announces Coach Ted Mumby.

The meet will start at 8 o'clock in the California gym. The Spartans seek their second triumph following their victory over the Stanford Indians 12½-11½.

Elimination bouts are being held by Coach Mumby to determine who will participate against the Bears tomorrow. The wrestling coach will name his starting squad sometime today. George Ehling who was injured last month may be able to take part in the informal session.

Coach Mumby is dickering with San Francisco State college for suitable dates to match the two teams. He has two dates scheduled with Stanford.

YANKS ROLL OVER MIAMI GRIDDEES

MIAMI, FLA., Dec. 9 (UP)—The New York Yankees, eastern division champions of the All-American conference, romped over cellar-dwelling Miami tonight, 31-0, in New York's final regular-season game before playing Cleveland for the championship.

The Yanks started with a 40-yard field goal by Jarvey Johnson, and ended with a 75-yard pass play that put them in position for the final score. In the 55 minutes between, the Yankees mauled Miami almost at will. It was the Seahawk's 11th defeat and came before only 7,090 fans.

The pass-studded game saw both teams making most of their major gains through the air, with New York gaining from both sides as it intercepted Miami aerials. Miami was in good position only once, when Lamar Davis took a pickoff on his own three and returned to the New York nine.

But in four plays, Miami was driven back to the 27 and lost the ball.

Jack Manders scored first for New York, in the second period. He went over from the one, climaxing an 80-yard drive in which Ace Parker completed two passes for 31 yards. Miami held the ball for three plays but Bob Kennedy

SID LUCKMAN TO RETIRE IS REPORT

BOSTON, DEC. 9 (UP)—The Boston record said tonight that Sid Luckman, star passer of the Chicago Bears, would announce his retirement from professional football after the Bears-Giants clash Sunday, and would sign as backfield coach of Columbia.

The newspaper said Luckman was approached by his alma mater as soon as Aldo (Buff) Donelli quit as Lou Little's assistant to become head coach at Boston University.

Intercepted a pass on his own 28, and after two line smashes by Parker, Kennedy went over from the 20.

Orban Sanders intercepted another of Marion Pugh's passes midway in the third period and returned 50 yards to score untouched.

Miami came down to the New York 17 in the Fourth period but lost the ball on a fumble. After an exchange of punts and a 15-yard penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct put New York on its own 15, Parker threw a long pass caught by Harry Burrus on the Miami 45. Burrus ran to the ten before being stopped.

Parker threw to John Russell to the two and Sanders plunged over for his second touchdown. Johnson converted four times for the Yankees.

UTAGS LOOM AS TOUGH TEAM TO BEAT IN RAISIN BOWL AFTER 28-14 VICTORY OVER DENVER U.

Utah State Aggies' surprise 28-14 victory over Denver University Saturday didn't change the national ranking of football elevens, but it did add significance to the Raisin Bowl and, especially, the San Jose State football players.

The Utags triumph over Denver means that San Jose State college is going to get better bowl material than the vaunted Hardin-Simmons eleven which is playing in the Alamo Bowl. It also becomes a fact that the Spartans will have a strong opponent on their hands when they tackle the Big Seven champions from Logan, Utah.

UTAGS VAN NOY GREAT

The 20,000 fans who witnessed the Denver-Utag State tilt left the stadium singing praises of little Jay Van Noy, the Utags sensational frosh runner and passer who scored two touchdowns against the Denver outfit. One of Van Noy's scores came after a 70-yard run through the entire Denver team.

Along with Van Noy, Coach Bill Hubbard of the Spartans will have to keep his eye on Quarterback "Zipper" Caputo who is rated as one of the hardest blocking tailbacks in the Rocky Mountain area. Another brilliant star on the Utah State aggregation is Dick Howard, right end, who set the Utags in scoring position more than once in the Denver tilt by making several outstanding catches. Howard is a cinch to make the all-conference squad.

ROMNEY HONORED

Coach Dick Romney of the Utags was recently named "Coach of the Year" in the Big Seven Conference for lifting the Utah State eleven from obscurity to a bowl bid. Sports writers have dubbed the Utags as the Cinderella Kids of the American gridiron.

Coach Hubbard said that he planned not to have any hard contact until after "finals week." In the meantime, Hubbard's charges will go through light workouts.

CAGERS MEET BORLO A. C. HERE

Batting .600 for the season, San Jose State college's Spartan cagers go out for their fourth win against two losses tomorrow night in the Men's gym when they meet the Borlo Athletic Club from San Francisco.

Coach Walt McPherson's men broke even over the week-end taking an easy one from the barnstorming Hawaiian All-Stars Friday night, and losing a close decision to the Sacramento Senators Saturday night. In the Borlos the Spartans face one of the best independent squads on the Coast this year. Led by Tom Collingwood, six feet, five-inch center who formerly played with San Francisco State, the clubmen promise to give the gold and white a rough evening on the hardwood.

Despite their split over the week-end, the Spartans showed plenty of class in their outings. They fought an up-hill battle against a team of veteran courtmen in the Senators, and only missed by six points. McPherson's best combination at this point seems to be Stu Inman, Hal Sonntag, Bob Hagen, Chuck Hughes, and Ted Holmes. This quintet works well as a unit. With a few more practice tilts under their belts, they should give any squad in the CCAA a rough evening.

UNKNOWNNS VIE WITH NEWMANS

The strong, and unbeaten Newman Club quintet and the Unknown Quantity five will climax the successful Intramural league race when they tangle with each other in the championship play-off Friday afternoon.

The Newman Club won the Tuesday-Thursday championship after a hotly contested race with the Fightin' Tigers who were upset by the Mighty Mites last week. The Unknown Quantity five won the Monday-Wednesday cage crown after a tough uphill battle.
